

Angela K. Upchurch
Associate Professor of Law, Capital University Law School
Real Living Academic Director, National Center for Adoption Law & Policy

Professor Angela Upchurch is an Associate Professor of Law at Capital University Law School. She was appointed as the Real Living Academic Director of the National Center for Adoption Law & Policy in January 2007. In this capacity, she teaches the only regularly offered Adoption Law course in the nation.

Professor Upchurch teaches Civil Procedure, Dispute Resolution, Children and Family Law and Adoption Law. Her research interests include procedural law, dispute resolution systems and children and family law issues. She is the author of: Can Granny Have a New Home?: A Proposal for Determining a Change in an Incompetent's Domicile for Diversity Jurisdiction, 79 University of Colorado Law Review (forthcoming 2008). A Postmodern Deconstruction of Frozen Embryo Disputes, 39 Conn. L. Rev. (forthcoming 2007); The Deep Freeze: A Critical Examination of the Resolution of Frozen Embryo Disputes Through the Adversarial Process, 33 Fla. St. U. L. Rev. 395 (2005); Right to Recovery for Infringement Under 42 U.S.C. §1983: Is the Impact to the Parent-Child Relationship the Proper Focus for the Court?, 20 Children's L. Rts. J. 2 (2000). She is a contributing author of the book, ABA Center on Children and the Law, A Judge's Guide: Making Child-Centered Decisions in Custody Cases (2001).

Prior to joining the faculty at Capital University Law School, she was a law clerk to the Honorable Michael Murphy of the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit in Salt Lake City and a law clerk to the Honorable Avern Cohn of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan.

Professor Upchurch graduated first in her class at Loyola University Chicago School of Law where she was editor-in-chief of the Loyola University Chicago Law Journal and recipient of the Loyola University Chicago Presidential Medallion. She was a Civitas Child Law Fellow at Loyola University of Chicago School of Law.